

Title: Pinoso Mounds Trail

Introduction:

Pinoso Mounds Trail is an ancient archaeological site located in the province of Alicante, Spain. The site is comprised of several large mounds that are believed to date back to the Neolithic period. The mounds are thought to have been used for ceremonial or burial purposes.

Historical Context:

The Pinoso Mounds were first discovered in the mid-19th century by a local farmer. Since then, the site has been the subject of numerous archaeological excavations and studies. The mounds are thought to have been occupied by several different cultures, including the Iberians and the Romans.

Accessibility:

The Pinoso Mounds are located approximately 10 kilometers west of the town of Pinoso. The site is easily accessible by car or on foot. Parking is available on the road near the site.

Guided Tours:

The Pinoso Mounds are currently not open to the public for guided tours. However, the site is monitored by local archaeologists and is closed to the public to protect the integrity of the site.

Conclusion:

The Pinoso Mounds are a fascinating archaeological site that provides a glimpse into the past of the region. For more information on the site, contact the local archaeology department.

---

General:

- Location: Pinoso, Alicante, Spain
- Time Period: Neolithic
- Purpose: Ceremonial/Burial
- Access: Easy by car/foot
- Activities: Monitored by archaeologists
- Contact: Local archaeology department